Clinical Documentation Integrity

At AMN Healthcare, we know that every organization is different, and no two Clinical Documentation Integrity (CDI) programs are the same. They do all have the same goal: to ensure that reimbursement is accurate and clinically supported. That's what the CDI professionals at AMN help our clients do every day.

Protect your CDI investment with a CDI-MEER™ Program from AMN

Good CDI programs, from their inception to any point ahead, should always be working on getting better. There is no finish line, only the work to improve.

The difference between outstanding CDI programs and ones that underperform is the quality of feedback that fuels this improvement.

A tailored CDI-MEER™ (Monitor, Evaluate, Educate, Report) program from AMN turns continuous feedback into continuous improvement. The better a CDI program performs, the better the financial health of your organization.

Help CDI and Coding Teams Succeed Together with C2LR™ from AMN

Coding and Clinical Documentation go hand-in-hand. If either isn't performing well, you're missing revenue. The AMN Clinical Second Level Reconciliation (C2LR™) program is a proactive, supportive approach to bringing both teams together.

C2LR™ improves clinical documentation by establishing a foundation of education, transparency, and accountability. CDI specialists and coding teams work toward common goals to ensure reimbursements are the most accurate they can be.

Clinical Documentation Is the Backbone of Accurate Coding and Billing

Regular evaluation of your CDI Program keeps your organization financially healthy. AMN offers a variety of CDI solutions for the myriad of needs a CDI program may have. Large or small, inpatient or outpatient, or a mix across different areas of your organization, CDI programs come in all shapes and sizes. Whether you need to fine-tune an established CDI program or build one from the ground up, AMN has the experience, tools, and knowledge to make your CDI program a success.
